INTRODUCTION

The Institute of Chartered Economists - Ghana (ICEG) is a professional body, established under National Revolutionary Council Decree (NRCD) 1973, PB No.57 with the pioneering statutory right to regulate the practice of Economics in Ghana, and create a unified body to which economics professionals could identify themselves.

VISION

The vision of the Institute of Chartered Economists - Ghana is to become a leading professional association of Economists and an Institute of professional competence and excellence in Ghana and beyond.

MISSION

The mission of the Institute is to promote and encourage the study of the art and science of Economics in Ghana.

Objectives

1. To provide a forum for Economists to share ideas and contribute to National development.
2. To Provide a professional progression for practicing Economists in Ghana.
3. To make the study of Economics more professional than academic.

Membership

Any person, seeking membership in ICEG, has to successfully complete the professional programmes and acquire working experience in an area of Economics approved by the Council. In addition, one needs to go through an induction process, before being admitted as a member of the Institute. Such a qualified member can then use the designatory letters "CE" after his/her name.

Membership of the Institute is divided into five (5) categories:

The membership of this institute shall consist of (5) categories which are as follows:

1. Corporate Membership (CCE)

EXEMPTIONS POLICY

Exemption implies granting students' permission to abstain from writing certain papers in the examination scheme of the professional programme. This implies that the student has already written and passed the same subject in a similar professional or academic examination.

Applicants are not exempted beyond the Professional Level of the CE examination scheme.

NB:

- Participants whose transcripts do not indicate their knowledge of the business related courses in the foundation and intermediate levels would be required to take these courses in order to fully complete these levels.
- If a person's transcript indicates a completion of 50% or more of the course structure of the exemption levels, he/she should be considered for exemption.
- A person willing to be considered for exemption should obtain an exemption form from the secretariat or website. The admission committee will review his/her transcripts and accept/refuse his/her application for exemption.

GRADING SYSTEM

The System of grading shall basically comprise two weights: Pass and Fail. Scores below 50% for any course taken in the professional programme represent a Fail in that course. Passes are recorded for scores above 50% in any respective course. However, the Pass mark is constituted of weighted scores designated by letters and descriptions to distinguish deserving students who show excellence and professionalism in their examinations. The table below indicates the designations as applicable to the grading system of the CE professional programme.

Score Range	Grade Designation	Description	Grade Type
80 and above	A	Excellent/Distinction	Pass
75-79	B+	Very Good	Pass
